

Fourteenth Annual Report
OF THE
SHARON SANATORIUM
SHARON, MASS.

THE SHARON SANATORIUM FROM THE SOUTH-EAST.

“He who helps to fight against the worst enemy of mankind saves wife and children.”

AN APPEAL

To the Friends of the Sharon Sanatorium for Pulmonary Diseases.

Will you not use your personal influence to interest others in the work of the Sanatorium, which greatly needs funds, both to continue and to increase its usefulness?

By aiding this cause you are not only benefiting individual cases, but you are helping to stamp out a disease which causes the largest death rate in our community.

Experience has shown that in no way can incipient cases of consumption be cured so well as by treatment in sanatoria especially adapted to the purpose; and there are hundreds of sufferers in the immediate vicinity of our great cities, unable from lack of means to seek other climates, whose lives could be saved, had we the proper institutions near at hand.

The Sharon Sanatorium is the first of its kind in New England. It is not a hospital for hopeless cases. It is intended for incipient cases only.

Remember that scarcely a family exists in New England some member of which has not fallen a victim to pulmonary disease. Will you not, then, aid this work by donations and bequests of money? or, if unable to help pecuniarily, will you not speak to your friends, and thus spread the knowledge of what is being done to lessen the ravages of consumption?

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

IN offering the Fourteenth Annual Report, the Directors take pleasure in announcing an ever-increasing public interest in the working of the Sanatorium. This interest has been shown by the fact that throughout the United States several Boards of Health have issued in their reports pictures of the Sanatorium with descriptions of the methods employed there. It is pleasant to record, moreover, that at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904 the exhibit of the Sanatorium in the Department of Hygiene received a gold medal from the Committee on Awards.

A much larger number of applications has been received than ever before, which justifies the belief that double the number of beds could be kept constantly filled by suitable cases if at any time the money could be obtained to erect an additional building with the means to maintain it properly.

The great difficulty with which we have to contend is the great increase in the cost of living, which, combined with the fact that the price of board for the patients has never been raised above the original sum of five dollars a week, makes the outlay for the necessities of life much larger than before. To accomplish the desired results it is impossible to economize more than we do in the matter of food. No extravagance is shown in the quality or quantity of provisions used, but a much greater supply is needed than in ordinary hospitals, and this means a large proportionate outlay.

A glance at the medical report, which is much more favorable this year than ever before, should convince everyone how necessary it is, therefore, to maintain the same standard of excellence in the matter of supplies. To raise the price of board is also impracticable, for it would mean a hardship upon those who often can ill afford to make even the present outlay.

Additional funds are therefore earnestly solicited.

The same favorable reports as heretofore are received from the increasing number of patients who have regained their health at the Sanatorium. Most of those who have been discharged with the disease "arrested" are leading active lives, and continue to send letters expressing happy memories of their stay at Sharon.

By the wise supervision of our Superintendent, Miss Hodges, the farm land has been developed more during the past year, so that fresh vegetables have been supplied to the patients and a small income is derived from the sale of provisions not needed at the Sanatorium.

During the winter months, Mr. Richard T. Fisher, of the Forestry Department of Harvard University has rendered valuable aid in advising us about the care of our woodland. By judicious cutting, not only has an additional income been supplied from the sale of wood which has not been needed for Sanatorium purposes, but the condition of the woodland is improved.

Money is especially solicited for the following purposes :

1. An endowment fund of at least $200,000.
2. A fund for a scientific laboratory.
3. Donations to meet current expenses and necessary outlays for repairs, etc.
4. Donations for the small fund which we now have to assist those who cannot afford to meet even the present price of board.

A larger number of annual subscribers is solicited. The smallest sums are gratefully received. Our Auxiliary Committee has during the past year given valuable assistance in this matter, but we need even a larger list than at present.

We desire to express our sincere thanks to all who have generously assisted the Sanatorium during the past year, especially to our Auxiliary Committee and the press of Boston and Sharon.

THE DIRECTORS.

MEDICAL REPORT.

Full capacity of the Sanatorium	21
Number of patients entered since March 1, 1904 . .	59
Number of patients discharged during the year . .	59

Of those discharged, four classed as suspected phthisis lacked sufficient clinical evidence to make a definite diagnosis, even though they showed suspicious symptoms of beginning pulmonary trouble. Special tests, moreover, were not possible in these cases for various reasons. These four cases together, therefore, with the three who stayed less than a month, are not considered in this report.

The following table shows the condition of the remaining 52 patients at entrance and the result of treatment;—

	Incipient.	Advanced.	Totals.	Percentages.
Arrested	27	5	32	61 +
Improved	5	13	18	34 +
Not improved . . .		2	2	4 —
Totals	32	20	52

The percentage of arrested and improved cases naturally varies from year to year somewhat, according to the condition of the patients upon entrance.

The remarkably gratifying results this year, however, point more than ever to the wisdom of taking cases for treatment as early in the course of disease as possible.

THE SUN-BATH (WINTER).

In making these statements, practically the same terms are used as heretofore. By "incipient" is meant cases in which the physical signs, such as changes in percussion or respiration, possibly a few rales, are confined to small areas, usually in one or both apices of the lungs, and in which only slight constitutional signs, such as fever, indigestion, or loss of strength, are present.

The term "advanced" is applied to all cases in which the symptoms and signs in the chest are beyond the incipient stages. Far-advanced cases, in which the pulmonary and general symptoms point to a practically hopeless condition, are not received.

The term "arrested" is applied to all cases, with very rare exceptions, in which cough and fever have disappeared, when the sputa, if present, shows an absence of bacilli, the general symptoms and appearance being those of health, when they leave the Sanatorium.

The term "cured" is not used until many months after the disappearance of all active symptoms, and when the patient has returned to ordinary conditions of life. Many of those discharged as "arrested," however, would from their general condition, be with justice classed under the more favorable term.

Among the "arrested" cases (32),

The number who had bacilli in their sputa was	12
The number who had a positive tuberculin reaction was . . .	9
The number who had physical evidences of incipient tubercular disease in the chest without sputum, or in which the sputum did not contain bacilli, was	11

32

Of these latter three gave a history of hemoptysis.

One had tubercular glands, and one tuberculosis of the knee.

Average stay of all cases	4.6 months
Longest stay of "arrested" cases	7.5 "
Shortest stay of "arrested" cases	2.2 "
Average stay of "arrested" cases	4.8 "
Average gain in weight of all cases	11.6 pounds
Average gain in weight of "arrested" cases	12.3 "
Average gain in weight of "improved" cases	11.4 "
Average age of "arrested" cases	28. years
Average age of all cases	25. "

In stating the shortest stay of an "arrested" case as a little more than two months, it should be remembered that no claim is made other than that all active symptoms had ceased almost immediately after entrance.

Of the 21 cases still in the Sanatorium, the disease is in a state of arrest in 6, and 10 are improved. 5 have been in the institution too short a time to warrant any conclusions being drawn regarding their condition. Tubercle bacilli have been found in 15. One has had a positive tuberculin reaction, while in 5 the physical examination alone and the history warranted making a diagnosis of tuberculosis.

Favorable reports are still received from the majority of the patients who were formerly in the Sanatorium and discharged as "arrested cases." Some of these patients left Sharon nearly thirteen years ago, and have been well ever since, leading active lives.

We are indebted to Dr. Walter C. Bailey, for occasional assistance during the year and especially to Miss Elizabeth Trafton, who has given to the patients a lesson in calisthenics each week.

WEATHER CONDITIONS AT THE SHARON SANATORIUM.

THIS report is not intended to prove that the weather conditions at the Sanatorium are ideal, but they may be taken in connection with the results of treatment of tuberculosis at this institution, as shown in the annual reports and in various papers by Dr. Bowditch, to indicate how much may be accomplished in a climate not naturally favored, at an altitude of about 250 feet only, provided the patients are given the right sort of regimen.

A record of the amount of sunshine has been kept for three years. The data were collected for half that time by the nurses at the Sanatorium, and for the rest of the time by the author. The fact that there has been but little variation in the amount recorded in the whole time argues something for the method of making the data,—by personal observation. There has been an average of 168 days each year when the sun shone all day, and 85 days when there was no sun. The other 112 days of the year had sun for one fourth of the time or longer, and these various fractions of sunny days have amounted on an average to the equivalent of 65 whole days of sunshine per year. These added to the 168 days already mentioned would make an average of 223 sunny days each year. Such a grouping seems fair since many of the days sunny only in part are really as pleasant as those on which the sun shines all the time. How the amount of sun was distributed each year is shown by the following table :

	Sun all day.	Total sum of sunny days.	Per cent. of sunny days.	Days entirely without sun.
1902	163	224	61	86
1903	172	221	62	87
1904	170	224	61	83

The amount of sun does not vary in different months as much might be expected. The average by months for the three years follows :

Month.	Total amount of sun.	Per cent.	Days entirely without sun.
January	18	58	9
February	18	64	8

About a year and a half ago maximum and minimum thermometers and a rain guage were set up. A sling psychrometer was also bought. This instrument consists of a wet and a dry bulb thermometer from the reading of which may be computed, with the aid of tables furnished by the government, the vapor pressure, relative humidity and temperature of the dew point. Records have been taken once a day, as near 8 a. m. as possible.

The average mean temperature in the year and a half has been 46.5 degrees. The highest record was in July 1903 when 94 was reached. Only three times has the thermometer registered above 90. The lowest temperature was 14 below zero.

The relative humidity has been high as one would expect from the nearness to the New England coast. It has been above 90% about six times each month. It rarely goes below 35%, and averages 73%. There has been but slight differences in different months. The absolute humidity has not been worked out..

The rainfall was 41.7 inches for 1904 and 16 inches for the last six months of 1903. It is to be noted that rarely is there less than 2 inches in a month. Because of the gravelly nature of the soil surface water is quickly taken up. How the temperature, humidity and precipitation has varied by months is shown by the following table.

Month.	Highest temp.	Lowest temp.	Average mean temp.	Average relative humidity.	Precipitation.

No record has been made of the direction or velocity of the wind, but in general all west winds are fair and east winds bring foul weather. Sudden changes are frequent, but the harshness of the east wind is not felt so keenly as in Boston because of the intervention of the Blue Hill of Milton. The Sanatorium is so well protected by woods that there is seldom any hardship to patients from winter winds.
